

Let It Be Me

Copyright Marnie Swedberg, 2001

You needed someone who would build You a boat,
A man of faith, Noah had never seen rain.
You needed a women who was simple and pure,
The virgin Mary truly loved Your name.

But now what You need is someone who
Is open to Your call:
A servant who is totally Yours,
Who is ready to give her all.

Chorus:

Let it be me, that You see
When You're looking for someone to use today.
Let it be me!
Let me walk and talk Your way,
Use me I pray!
But Lord, let it be me!

You needed a man who would stand up for right
A man who wasn't easily undone.
You needed someone above reproach,
Daniel took on the lions and won!

But now You're looking for another man,
Ready to trust his life to You alone.
A man willing to risk it all
To bring others to the throne.
Chorus

Because of how You've chosen to work
You will always need a man.
My desire: to be totally Yours
Yielded to Your every plan.

And as Your eyes search to and fro,
Seeking someone whose heart is true,
Let Your holy, sovereign plan,
Include me as I trust in You.
Chorus

HISTORY. This is one of my favorite songs as it has a catchy tune and such a cool message. It was the second song I ever wrote and came to me chorus first, with the verses later, a bit at a time.

A few years afterwards, as I was playing the piano and leading the Amah-El girls as they sang it, I realized that every Thursday afternoon, at least, it was true. Every week at girls club, even if nowhere else, God had chosen me to be His vessel of the hour.
