

This Moment

Copyright Marnie Swedberg, 1994

Life gives no promise of days to come
No guarantees of tomorrow
Yet we have this moment
Right here in our grasp
A chance to hear Jesus' voice
And know peace at last.

Chorus:

Let me speak
Boldy and true,
Let me not faint in the way,
Give me the words that will
Open their eyes.
Teach me on You to rely.

I have a friend who does not know You
Her hope of eternal peace and joy
All rest on this moment,
Right here in my grasp
A chance to share Jesus' love
His peace that lasts.

Chorus

Jesus bids room in your heart today
Do not lose heaven, by turning Him away
For you have this moment
Right here in your grasp
A chance to accept His love
To know peace at last.

Let me speak
Boldly and true
Christ's life was given for you.
Open your heart
He is standing so near
Your simple prayer He will hear.

HISTORY. There are several people in my sphere of influence who have not yet come to faith in Jesus Christ as their personal Savior and Lord. As I prayed about them one day, this song came into my head. It has since been sung as special music at church and at funerals.
